

A Long Walk Home

A Long Walk Home Chicago, IL

alongwalkhome.org

A Long Walk Home (ALWH) is a non-profit that uses art to empower young people to end violence against girls and women. Founded by two African-American sisters, 2022 Pulitzer Prize winner, rape survivor, scholar, and writer Salamishah Tillet, and Scheherazade Tillet, a recent recipient of the Field Foundation and MacArthur Foundation's Leaders for a New Chicago award. ALWH is an expert leader in the movement to end domestic violence and sexual violence in Black communities.

Adelle Consulting

Adelle Consulting
Royal Oak, MI

adelleconsulting.com

Adelle Consulting provides hundreds of Black LGBTQIA survivors in Detroit, Michigan, with honoring, empowering, and supportive services to help survivors heal and repair after victimization occurs. More frequently than not, survivors present with more than one type of victimization, so Adelle Consulting provides collaborative technical assistance and cultural competency training to local community partners.

Amiracle4sure Harrisburg, PA

amiracle4sure.com

Amiracle4sure's mission is to improve the quality of life for individuals and their families whose lives have been impacted by negative life experiences; and to provide education, mentoring and advocacy for individuals and their children as they successfully transform their lives after incarceration. Research is clear, domestic violence perpetrated against Black victims leads, often, to incarceration. An opportunity to impact Black victims of domestic violence when most needed may lie at the intersection of release from incarceration and domestic violence victimization. It is often at this point where Black victims of domestic violence are most alone and at risk of returning to domestic abuse or recovering from the trauma of a lifetime of abuse.

Angel Wings Outreach Center Mendenhall, MS

angelwingsoutreach.org

Angel Wings Outreach Center (AWOC) is a Black culturally specific community-based and non-government organization which provides virtual, supportive services and temporary housing and assistance to domestic violence survivors from the Black community in Mississippi. AWOC's services include but are not limited to Referral-based advocacy, Counseling, Case management, Childcare, financial empowerment and employment, legal advocacy, temporary housing and the dissemination of COVID mitigation supplies (i.e., masks, gloves, COVID tests).

Black Skeptics Los Angeles Los Angeles, CA

blackskepticsla.org

Black Skeptics Los Angeles is a community-based organization that provides social justice resources, public education, mental health, and arts education for Black non-believers, humanists, freethinkers, skeptics and secularists. Black Skeptics L.A. promotes the work of Black skeptics, freethinkers, atheists, agnostics, humanists and secularists through community outreach, education, and social justice initiatives. Black Skeptics L.A. provides a safe space for Black freethinkers who feel marginalized and unaccepted within communities of color.

DXT Therapeutic Foundation Forestville, MD

dxtservices.com

DXT Therapeutic Services (DXT) is an outpatient mental health agency located in Prince George's County serving the District of Columbia and local residents. Our team is trained in working with an array of behavioral and mental health issues including trauma victims, anxiety disorders, attention deficit hyperactivity, mood disorders, conduct disorders, personality disorders, and substance abuse.

The Empowered Survivor Houston, TX

empowered-survivor.org

The Empowered Survivor (TES) is a social health nonprofit established in 2020, to prevent domestic violence and related homicides in underserved minority communities across the Houston, Harris County region. Recognizing the majority of Harris County's domestic violence survivors are people of color, namely mainly Black women, TES embraces a culturally-specific victim service approach to ensure survivors have hope and receive the healing services they need in order to flourish and live a life free of violence and abuse.

Rooted in African Principles

Harambe
Social Services, Inc.

Unifying Communities to End Domestic and Sexual Violence

Harambe Social Services Sicklerville, NJ

hambesocialservices.org

Harambe is a statewide non-profit agency based in Sicklerville, New Jersey. The organization provides supportive education and resources to families impacted by domestic and sexual assault. Harambe also offers technical assistance and training to organizations in the community and to mainstream organizations to build their capacity to provide more culturally relevant services to people of the African Diaspora.

Lauren H Collins PT, DPT, CLT

Lauren H. Collins Wellness
Washington, DC

laurenhcollinswellness.com

Lauren H. Collins Wellness' mission is to provide culturally relevant and specific healing services via licensed physical therapy services, inclusive of assessments, treatments and education, and other relevant traditional and complementary healing approaches to Black people across the diaspora who are Survivors from a primary to tertiary degree of domestic and partner violence and sexual assault. In addition, Lauren H. Collins Wellness has a mission to promote the education of Black student physical therapist to provide culturally relevant and specific healing services to Black people across the diaspora.

NISAA
AFRICAN
FAMILY SERVICES

Nisaa African Family Services Des Moines, IA

nisaa-afs.org

Nisaa African Family Services is a culturally specific organization providing services to victims/survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence, stalking, human trafficking and cases of homicide in the African immigrant and refugee communities in Iowa. Nisaa's mission is to increase awareness of gender-based violence in the African population, provide safe, confidential and effective services to victims, empower victims and their support networks; and champion community accountability and social change.

Our House, Inc. Greenville, MS

ourhousevoices.com

Our House, Inc., New Birth to Violence Free Living is a non-profit, culturally specific domestic violence program in the state of MS developed to address the unique needs and experiences of Blacks. Our House, Inc.'s mission is to lead, empower and inspire change by eliminating domestic violence and sexual violence through intervention, prevention, prosecution, victim protection and sustainable restoration in rural communities; and, to enhance the lives of survivors of interpersonal violence by providing services that meet the psychological, spiritual and cultural needs of those served.

Our Sisters' House Tacoma, WA

oursistershouse.com

Our Sisters' House was founded in 1995 to fill a gap in services for girls of color who were adjudicated in the juvenile system. Today the organization continues to fill in a gap in services for African American women and children who have been impacted and victimized by domestic violence. Our Sisters' House aims to enhance the lives of survivors of domestic violence by providing services that meet the cultural needs of those we serve. OSH seeks to accomplish ending the cycle of violence through youth programming, education, outreach advocacy strategies, and collaboration with key community partners.

The House of Kadence Detroit, MI

houseofkadence.com

The House of Kadence (HOK) is a faith based, culturally specific, non-profit organization that assist Black Women who are victims/survivors of Domestic Violence, Homelessness and the Child Welfare System (CWS), to heal from their traumas. We help survivors secure safe temporary shelter while teaching the daily necessities needed to obtain and maintain long term safe housing. We provide direct advocacy, comprehensive case management services, community referrals and more. We offer the opportunity for survivors to participate with faith-based activities such as prayer. We also invite them to engage in other spiritual activities that fit their personal beliefs, as a model to begin healing. We service the Metro Wayne County area.

Somali Family Safety Task Force Seattle, WA

www.somalifamilysafetytaskforce.org

The Somali Family Safety Task Force is a nonprofit community-based organization (CBO) located in the New Holly neighborhood in Seattle, WA that serves refugee and immigrant women and their families. Not only are we community-based but we are also community-driven. Our founders as well as the majority of our staff and volunteers are Somali and/or East African. Our programs are created with input from our community and are often at their request. Programs range from computer literacy training to combating and preventing gender-based violence. We pride ourselves in being an organization by-and-for our community.

Southern University and A&M College: Center for Social Research
Baton Rouge, LA

www.subr.edu/page/607

The purpose of the Center for Social Research is to contribute to the enhancement of the community by addressing social, economic and policy issues affecting children, family and the community. The Center works collectively with individuals and community groups and organizations to implement a variety of programs supporting housing, family economic stability and workforce development. Utilizing modern methods and techniques, conducting both basic and applied research, in structured and formalized investigations by faculty, staff and students, the Center complements and supports the University's threefold mission of education, research and service.

Supreme Transitions Detroit, MI

supremetransitions.wixsite.com/iamevidence

Supreme Transitions is a culturally responsive agency that fields phone calls, accepts referrals from National helplines and local agencies/programs to assist survivors in crisis and in need of DV/SA/IPV Intervention services including a needs assessment, safety plan, warm referrals to agencies and service providers. We host community interactions and awareness campaigns to increase prevention services. We meet survivors at their preferred location, by phone, or devices with video chat capabilities. In-person advocacy appointments, resource fairs, educational forums and empowerment conferences are held regularly. Non-traditional healing group sessions are held monthly.

The Person Center Washington, DC

thepersoncenterdc.org

The Person Center is a nonprofit that serves and supports African Immigrant and Refugee survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking in Washington DC. TPC offers case management and crisis support for survivors, develops and facilitates community education workshops, professional trainings for community organizations and responders, and leads advocacy initiatives throughout the district. TPC provides holistic support to survivors of domestic and sexual violence.

The Safe Sisters Circle, Washington, DC

safesisterscircle.org

The Safe Sisters Circle is a Black women founded nonprofit that provides free culturally specific, holistic, and trauma-informed services to Black women and girl survivors of domestic and sexual violence living in Washington DC's Wards 7 and 8. The Safe Sisters Circle's vision is to provide culturally specific services to while addressing various barriers Black women survivors face as a result of their past trauma as well as Black women survivors' disadvantages based on their cultural, ethnic, social, or and/or sexual identities.

Transition 123, Inc. Detroit, MI

transition123inc.org

Transition 123 Inc. is a non-profit Christian based organization that believes in transformation. Our mission is to be a catalyst in the lives of disenfranchised women to move them to a plateau of success in every aspect of their lives. Since 2004 Transition 123 has been providing services to homeless and/or domestically abused women and their children in the Metropolitan Detroit area. There is no single prevention strategy that can end domestic violence, however Transition 123 has worked diligently for many years, offering supportive services to women ages 17-45+ and their children.

Yonnie's House of Love Clinton, MD

yonnieshouseoflove.com

Yonnie's House of Love is a nonprofit organization in coalition with other organizations, groups, and individuals whose mission is to provide quality, compassionate, and nonjudgmental services to victims/survivors of domestic violence. Yonnie's House of Love envisions a safe place where victims of domestic violence, families, and communities live together in a society where any kind of domestic violence is intolerable.